Applying for a Georgia driver's license or identification card can be quick and easy if you are prepared before visiting a customer service center. Please be sure to bring all of the documents and information that DDS needs to process your application.

First, you need proof of your identity. The DDS accepts any of the following documents as proof of identity:

- a. Original birth certificate;
- b. Certificate of birth registration;
- c. Certified copy of birth certificate;
- d. Certified copy of court records (adoption, name, or sex change);
- e. Certified naturalization documentation;
- f. Immigration ID Card;
- g. Valid passport;
- h. Military identification card issued by the United States armed forces.

Next, you need proof that you are a United States citizen, or if you are not a citizen, you must be lawfully present in the United States.

Documents that are accepted as proof of United States citizenship:

- a. Original birth certificate issued by a United States jurisdiction;
- b. Certified copy of birth certificate issued by a United States jurisdiction;
- c. Valid United States passport;
- d. Original certificate of citizenship (Form N560)
- e. Certified copy of certificate of citizenship (Form N560)

Documents that are accepted from non-citizens as proof of lawful presence in the United States:

- a. Foreign passport with appropriate immigration documents;
- b. Resident Alien Card (Form I-551);
- c. Temporary Resident Alien Card (Form I-668);
- d. United States Department of Receptions and Placement Program Assurance Form (for refugees).

*Military identification cards are not accepted as proof of citizenship or lawful presence in the United States as the armed forces will accept applicants who are not citizens and non-citizen applicants need not be lawfully present in the United States.

Third, DDS needs verification that you are now a Georgia resident. Documents that are accepted as proof of Georgia residency:

- d. Employer verification;
- e. Non-expired Georgia driver's license, permit or identification card issued to parent, guardian, or spouse.

Other things to know:

All documents presented must be the originals issued by governmental entities or certified copies.

DDS typically uses the name reflected on each customer's birth certificate as the name that will be used on the driver's license or identification card. If your name has changed from that reflected on your birth certificate due to marriage, divorce, adoption, or court-ordered name change, please be sure to bring a certified copy of the document(s) reflecting this as well.

DDS will also need to verify your social security number, so be sure to have it or documentation from the Social Security Administration verifying that you are not eligible for a social security number.

Most customers are required to surrender any driver's license or identification card previously issued by another jurisdiction. If you have lost the driver's license or identification card previously issued to you by another jurisdiction, please bring a certified copy of your driving record from that state issued within the past thirty (30) days.

Customers who surrender a valid driver's license issued by another state or the District of Columbia are not required to take a written test or road test to be issued a Georgia driver's license. Customers surrendering licenses issued from other countries and the United States territories, including Guam, are required to take both the written and road tests.

If you need to replace a Georgia driver's license that has been expired for more than two (2) years, you will also be required to complete the written test or road test.

Need More Information?

If you have any questions relating to driver's licenses, identification cards, driver education or other topics within the jurisdiction of the DDS, please visit the website, www.dds.ga.gov, or call the customer contact center at (678) 413-8400.

HOMESCHOOLING

Whether you are new to homeschooling or a veteran, it is good to become educated on the laws and regulations of your state. Home school laws and regulations vary from state to state.

GEORGIA REQUIREMENTS:

Compulsory Attendance Ages: "between 6th and 16th birthdays." However, if a child is under 6 and has attended more than 20 days in a public school, he is then subject to the compulsory attendance laws. The required days of instruction are 180 days, 4.5 hours per day. Parents are required to teach a basic academic educational program that includes, but is not limited to, reading, language arts, math, social studies, and science. Parents must submit a declaration of intent to home study to the local superintendent thirty days after the establishment of the home study program and by Sept. 1 every year thereafter. This declaration must include the names and ages of students, the location of the home school, and the time the parents designate as their school year. Attendance records must be kept and submitted to the superintendent each month. Note: An exception to the rule pertains to military students residing on post where DoDEA schools are present. Military children who live in the area designated to attend a DoDEA school, must submit their intent and attendance to the local DoDEA School. For a more comprehensive description of Georgia home school laws see <http://www.ghea.org/pages/resources/stateLaw.php>

SUPPORT:

On Fort Stewart, a support group is available to home school families. These services include monthly support group and planning meetings. Depending on the level of parental involvement, the group has classes and field trips. The classes and field trips are determined by interest and demand. Contact the Fort Stewart School Liaison program for more information about these services.
